A range of rackets suitable for each stage in the child's learning process.

HOW TO CHOOSE THE RIGHT RACKET ?

Choosing the right racket is crucial for juniors to enjoy tennis and improve their game. When choosing a racket for a young tennis player, the two most important factors are the racket size and racket material.

CHOOSING THE PROPER RACKET MATERIAL DEPENDS ON THE KIDS LEVEL:

NEW TO TENNIS

Aluminum rackets are lightweight and feature larger head sizes, making tennis easier to learn and more fun.

INTERMEDIATE JUNIORS

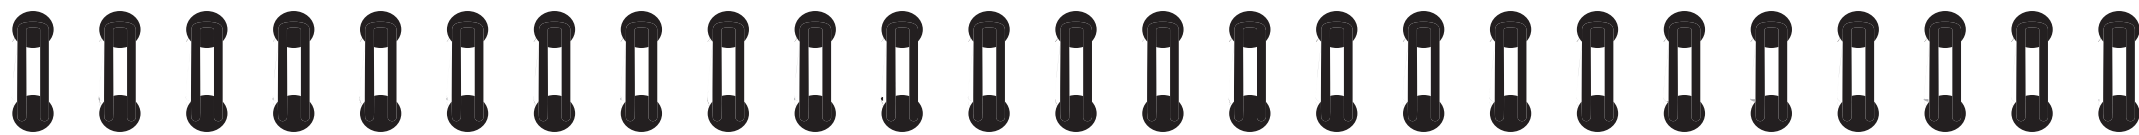

Graphite composite rackets feature graphite core and aluminum heads, providing an ideal balance of performance and playability as the junior's game improves.

ADVANCED JUNIORS

Full graphite rackets are a replica of adult racket sized to junior needs, providing advanced juniors the power and precision to perform at the highest level and prepare for their transition to adult rackets.

Pro tip: If a junior is just beginning and on the border of two racket sizes, the smaller racket will make it easier to learn to play tennis.

The educational tools on these rackets make it easier for kids to learn the fundamentals of tennis and improve quickly

STRINGS

Often referred as “the engine of the racket”, strings account for 50% of the racket performance and are essential to play the perfect tennis shot. As the inventor and first producer of tennis strings more than 144 years ago, Babolat is constantly innovating to provide players with the most suited strings for their game.

If players are always looking for control, power and durability, new trends have emerged in the modern game making spin, comfort and feel the tennis players new priorities.

HOW TO CHOOSE YOUR STRINGS ?

TOUCH RANGE

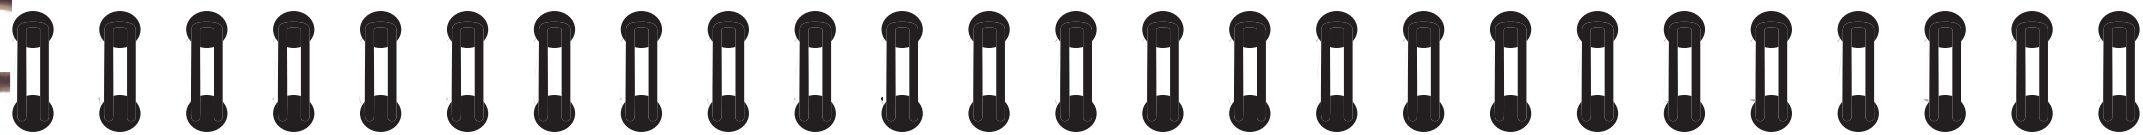

ABSOLUTE FEEL
Widely used on tour for a reason. 100% natural gut, the Touch range is simply impossible to imitate. Amazing combination of feel and power, this lively string holds tension over time like no other on the market.

Xcf RANGE

The soft polyamide structure and its multifilament composition give the X range an exceptional elasticity. Very arm friendly, it displays an extraordinary feeling of comfort.

RPM RANGE

ULTIMATE SPIN
